

On the notion of isoclinism among finite p -groups

Carlo M. Scoppola

Information Engineering, Computer Science and Mathematics Department

University of L'Aquila

Via Vetoio (Coppito 1), 67100 Coppito (AQ), Italy

`carlo.scoppola@univaq.it`

In 1940 P. Hall introduced the notion of isoclinism among groups, and suggested that it might be a tool in a possible classification of finite p -groups. In this talk we will see how this idea was used several times in recent literature.